RUM DIARIES

Our back bar offers a continually changing selection of the rums below. Please ask your server what's currently available, including any guest rums, and take your pick...

WHITE RUM

A crystal-clear form of the spirit, white rum generally requires a shorter distillation period (sometimes under four years) and is also known as 'light' or 'silver' rum.

FLAVOURED RUM

Full of enticing aromas and flavours which pack a punch from nose to palate, flavoured rums are typically young, but what they lack in age, they definitely make up for in taste.

GOLD RUM

Also known as 'amber' rum, this is aged in wooden casks for a considerable period, giving the spirit its signature colour and a sweeter, richer flavour. The longer the rum is left to ferment, the more the colour and oak of the barrel will infuse into the spirit.

Aged for as long as golden rum, this offers an equally smooth taste, yet is fuller bodied, because of extra spices and ingredients added during production. Major contributors to its intense flavour include vanilla, cinnamon and orange.

DARK RUM

A favourite among connoisseurs, dark rums or 'black' rums generally have the most flavour and are rich and powerful to the tongue. The extended time spent in wooden casks gives this rum its inky colour and deep, smoky-sweet flavour.
