Horatio Nelson & Topsham

Horatio Nelson became a national hero from the time of the battle of the Nile in 1778 and Copenhagen in 1801. A Topsham Man, Thomas Randle is said to have served as a quartermaster on HMS Victory at Trafalgar in 1805 and claimed to have helped carry Nelson below decks after he had been struck by musket fire.

When asked by Nelson to remain with him Randle replied "Duty calls me on deck my lord", to which Nelson Replied "Then go, bold Randle, go where duty calls" Randle died in 1851 at the age of 78, He is buried in Topsham churchyard
